

You have completed the every task of the assignment succesfully. Your code works without an issue. The only suggestion for you is to consider adding comments to your code. The whole code and and the structure are understandable with the variable names, unless the person who is looking at the code is a beginner in the topic or very foreign to the topic. That's why, it needs some explanation on how you approached the task with some comments.

Overall, good job!